STRATTON SEED SPECIALTY DIVISION

Stratton Seed Company's Specialty Division was designed to help hunters reach their goals of growing successful food plots for wildlife. Our annual and perennial specialty blends are designed to help those hunts end in a success. Whether you enjoy harvesting a hit list buck in a soybean field, shooting ducks over a flooded field, or harvesting a tom on a clover plot, we have you covered.

We strive to provide you with diverse, high quality forage that will help you be successful in the field and help grow whitetail to their maximum potential. Whatever the situation may be, give Stratton Seed Company a call to help reach your goals.

Cover crops are a good way to provide high-quality forage for your herd while improving soil health! Cattleman's Treasure is made up of eight different species. Each plant is included with a distinct purpose. This blend provides a large quantity of forage through the fall and winter months to maximize gains during a critical time of year. The mix of cool-season annual grasses, broad leaves, and legumes converts idle agricultural fields into a winter grazing pasture while increasing the soil's fertility.
